INTRODUCTION.

---

THE present volume, the thirty-eighth issued in the Index Library, contains an index of abstracts of Bonds and Allegations for Marriage Licences preserved in the Leicester Archdeaconry Registry, complete, as far as such records are extant, from 1570 to 1729 inclusive. These records, the abstracting of which has occupied the compiler several years, during such time as he has been able to spare from other engagements, consist of two distinct series, namely:—the original Marriage Bonds and Allegations filed in bundles, and the entries recorded in four Licence Books. The whole of the Bonds and Allegations from 1570 to 1749, when the official index begins, have been arranged, numbered and indexed throughout by the compiler, and made up in bundles in this order.

- Bundle 1. Loose Bonds 1570 to 1640.
- „ 2. 1613 only.
- „ 3. 1627 „
- „ 4. 1641 „
- „ 5. 1675 to 1688.
- „ 6. 1689 to 1693.
- „ 7. 1694 to 1697.
- „ 8. The Prebendal Court of St. Margaret's,
Leicester, including Knighton, 1671
to 1748.
- „ 9. The Peculiar of Rothley and Evington,
1632 to 1868.*
- „ 10. 1699 to 1703.
- „ 11. 1705 to 1708.
- „ 12. 1709 to 1712.
- „ 13. 1713 to 1716.

* What few Bonds, &c., exist for the Peculiar Court of Groby are embodied in the regular bundles. Some records of this Court are believed to be in the custody of the Steward of the Bradgate estate.

Bundle 14.	1716 to 1719.
„ 15.	1717 to 1719.
„ 16.	1720 to 1722.
„ 17.	1723 to 1725.
„ 18.	1726 to 1728.
„ 19.	1729 to 1731.
„ 20.	1732 to 1734.
„ 21.	1735 to 1737.
„ 22.	1738 to 1740.
„ 23.	1741 to 1743.
„ 24.	1744 to 1746.
„ 25.	1747 to 1748.

The later Bonds, etc., are well arranged and indexed.

There are very few Bonds previous to 1600, none for the years not mentioned, and it is not until 1705 that they are filed with any regularity. Many of them, especially the earlier ones, are in such a dilapidated state that they will scarcely bear touching.

The four Books already referred to are in a good state of preservation. They date thus:—

Book 1.	From April 1604 to June 1621.
„ 2.	„ Aug. 1616 to June 1622.
„ 3.	„ July 1621 to Feb. 1632-3.
„ 4.	„ March 1678 to Feb. 1688-9.

With a few exceptions the whole of the entries in these Books are recorded in Latin. A few entries in Book 1 are repeated in Book 2. From Aug. 1679 to April 1687, the entries in Book 4 are merely surnames only. (See page 467.)

It will be noticed that there are no records of any description between 1641 and 1675.

Owing to the heavy nature of the MS. Index, it was found impossible to print the whole of it to 1748 as was originally intended. The present volume deals only with that portion of the Index previous to 1730. It embodies the whole of the Bonds and Allegations, the entries entered in the several Books, and contains no less than 9,912 brief abstracts of such records and entries which, with the list of names in Book 4, already referred to, numbering upwards of 1,000 Marriages, makes up a total of nearly 22,000 names of contracting parties.

Nearly every family, township and hamlet, in Leicestershire is represented in this Volume, whilst Licences for persons of all ranks in social life are to be found therein. There are several Peers and Esquires, many Gentlemen, Clergymen and Yeomen, but the most part belong to the trading and working classes. In addition, the names of many resident in other counties, with their place of abode recorded, will be found.

It should be borne in mind that these Marriage Allegations are not evidence in the technical sense, they merely prove that a licence was in each case granted. But the slip between the issue of the licence and the marriage ceremony was far from usual; the wedding in most cases rapidly followed, sometimes on the very day the licence was issued. Marriage Bonds have an interest peculiar to themselves, not only from the fact that they usually mention the social status of the contracting parties, their ages, etc., but also from the fact that whilst entries of Baptisms and Burials can generally be traced from Parish Registers, those of Marriages often have to be sought for far afield.

It is intended to print that portion of the MS. Index, 1730 to 1748 inclusive, in the hands of the compiler, at some future date.

The thanks of the British Record Society, and Genealogists generally, are due to A. PERCIVAL MOORE, B.C.L., the Registrar of the Archdeaconry of Leicester, and custodian of these records, for his courtesy in permitting this Index to be prepared and printed: also for the facilities he afforded the compiler in carrying out the work, and his services generally in matters concerning it.

Leicester Marriage Licences.

*Issued in conjunction with the Associated Architectural Societies'
Reports and Papers.*

PROVISIONAL INTRODUCTION.

The Archdeaconry of Leicester is somewhat of a "peculiar" inasmuch that it is one of the few in England in which the successive Archdeacons have from time immemorial possessed and exercised the right of granting marriage licences.

Originally the Archdeaconry formed a part of the great See of Lincoln,* and was situated at its western extremity. The size of that diocese, which at one time extended from the Humber to the Thames, required the existence of local ecclesiastical courts, where testamentary matters, the granting of marriage licences, and general ecclesiastical business was transacted. In the case of the Leicester Archdeaconry Court, however, the jurisdiction of which was limited to the county of its name, whilst subordinate to, was in its nature separate from that of the Bishop's Court.

The records from which this Index has been prepared consist of two distinct series, namely: the original Marriage Licence Bonds, filed in bundles, and the entries recorded in the Allegation Books. The former commence in 1570, but are by no means regular until about 1690, and even then are defective for the next few years. Many of the earlier Bonds are unfortunately in such a dilapidated state that they will scarcely bear touching. There are but very few Bonds for 1703, whilst those for 1704 have altogether disappeared. The whole series of Bonds, upwards of 10,000 in number, down to the end of the year 1748 where the official index begins, have recently been arranged and made up in bundles in this order:—

These records have hitherto been practically inaccessible owing to their former confused state, and the want of indexes. In the course of their arrangement the following Allegation Books, which had been hidden for many years, and which contain references to upwards of 4,000 additional marriage licences came to light :—

Book 1.	April 1604 to June 1621.
Book 2.	August 1616 to June 1622.
Book 3.	July 1621 to February 1632-3
Book 4.	March 1678 to February 1688-9.

With a few exceptions the whole of the entries in these Books are recorded in Latin.

Those in Book 4, from 1680 to the end of the year 1686 are given in the form of surnames only; thus, 1681. Hobson et Stockdale. 2 May.

These skeleton entries are not included in the following index, but it is intended to deal with them at a subsequent date in the form of an Appendix.

With regard to the references, however, in the index it should be borne in mind that they merely prove that a licence was in each case granted and are not direct evidence of the marriage to which they refer having actually taken place. But the slip between the issue of the licence and the marriage ceremony was far from usual; the wedding in a great many instances rapidly followed, sometimes on the very day the licence was issued. Marriage Licence Bonds have an interest peculiar to themselves not only from the fact that they usually mention the social status of the contracting parties, their ages, etc., but also from the fact that while entries of Baptism and Burial can generally be traced from Parish Registers, Marriages often have to be sought for far afield.

* The later Bonds are well arranged and indexed.

Leicester Marriage Bonds and Allegations. 1570—1729.

In order to economize space the year date and reference to each Bond or the entry in the Allegation Book is given after the bridegroom's place of abode. The figures which follow the date constitute the number of the Bond in the bundle for that particular year. Where it has been found necessary to quote a bundle by its number, the letter B. and the number of such bundle is given before that of the record. Thus B. 8—12 would signify Bundle 8, No. 12. Each reference to the Allegation Book is distinguished by the number of the Book and the folio. Widowers and Widows are denoted by the letter w. after their names, but where nothing is stated it must be considered that the contracting parties were Bachelors or Spinsters, or else not otherwise described. The church or choice of churches where the marriage could take place (if recorded) will be found given after the bride's place of abode. Places situate in other counties than Leicester are generally so specified.
